Dear Shrimant Jyotiradityaji

I congratulate you on taking office as the Minister of Communication, Government of India.

Furthermore, I would like to bring to your kind notice that, the 72 no. 4G mobile saturation towers in the Satara Lok Sabha Constituency were sanctioned by the earlier Communication Minister during my tenure as Member of Parliament, Satara. As per the information obtained from the BSNL office in Satara, the erection work of 30 towers has been completed, and TCS 4G equipment has been installed at 6 locations in Satara.

However, based on the BSNL customer service report regarding the 4G network, it has been observed that the 4G bandwidth allocated to BSNL by the Government of India (700 MHz, 900 MHz, and 2100 MHz) is not compatible with many mobile sets in rural areas.

I kindly request you to look into this matter and resolve the technical issues to ensure the provision of satisfactory 4G services in rural areas.

With warm regards

Yours Sincerely
